Club to Present One-Act Plays

Curtain Club To Give Comedies
Friday for Benefit of 1934 Ruby

PROF. AND MRS. SIBBALD COACH

The Curtain Club will present three one-act plays in the gymnasium on the night of Friday, February 23, at 8:15 p. m. These plays, to which an admission of thirty-five cents will be charged, are being given for the benefit of the 1934 Ruby, and the entire profits will be handed over to that publication.

"Indian Summer", the first of these plays, is a comedy translated from the French play, "L'Ete de Saint-Martin", by the co-authors Meilhac and Halevy. It has enjoyed quite a popularity in Europe ever since it was written in 1876.

Southern France is the scene of this comedy. Adrienne installs herself in the household of M. Briquerville, as the niece of Madame Libreton, for a purpose known only to herself. An amusing series of incidents takes place between the opening and closing of the play, at which times we hear Adrienne reading some lines from Alexander Dumas' "Three Musketeers."

The cast includes:

Adrienne Sarah Mary Ouderkirk '34.
Monsieur Briquerville Robert Brandaur '36.
Noel Everett Danehower '34.
Madame Libreton Heradah Newsome '35.

The second one-act play is entitled "Across the Border." It is a drama of the old south-west, written by Colin Clements. Ed. Hopper has gone out west to recover from tuberculosis, and is regaining his health. He shows himself to be a scoundrel, in spite of the entreaties of his wife. The plot is complicated by the entrance of Henderson in the middle of the action.

The cast for this play:

Ed. Hopper James Russo '34.
Mrs. Hopper Dolores Quay '34.
Henderson Montgomery Weidner '36.

The final play is a farce, "Whose Money?", written by Hickson and Dickson. It portrays the trials of Henry Dell, who has signed over his money to his wife, in spite of his flair for playing poker. The play is concerned with his efforts to extract $100 from his wife by some means or other in order to pay a poker debt, two weeks overdue. Matters are

Annual Lorelei Dance is Held by Co-eds

Nick Nichols and His Orchestra
Enliven Evening With Specialty Number

The coeds held their annual revelry—the Lorelei dance—in the gymnasium on Friday evening, February 16. Exactly 78 couples danced from eight o'clock to the last stroke of midnight, in step with the smooth music, furnished by Nick Nichols and his orchestra.

The gymnasium was attractively decorated in red and white in keeping with the Valentine season. Streamers of red and white crepe paper formed an overhead ceiling, which hung low over the dancers. Large red and white paper hearts completed the decorations.

Specialty numbers and the unusually good dance tunes supplied by Nick Nichols' well-known orchestra insured the success of the evening. The music played on the chimes by the ten musicians was particularly well applauded.

The chaperons for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. John W. Mauchley and Prof. and Mrs. J. Harold Brownback. The dance committee was composed of Florence Frosh '34, Helen Eisenberg '34, Mary Myers '34, Mario Farías '35, Wayne Covert '35, and Robert Dresch '34.

APPOINTMENTS ENLARGE BUSINESS STAFF

In order to secure additional advertising that a six-page Weekly may be continued, and to train successors for the business staff managerships of next year, the Board of Managers at a recent meeting created additional positions on the staff. Dr. Omwake, after consulting with David Stephenson '34, the advertising manager, appointed the following assistant advertising managers to serve for the rest of this school year: Dorothy Horne '35, Margaret Paxon '35, Frederick Mueller '35, George Stoudt '35, and William Hyland '36.

Within a few days, an assistant circulation manager will also be selected.

College Asks CWA to Aid Needy Students

Approximately 30 Students To Undertake Repair Work on College Grounds

PAY TO BE $15 A MONTH

In accordance with advice received from Harry L. Hopkins, Administrator of Federal Relief Funds, the College will make application for assistance in helping needy students during the remainder of the current academic year. Assistance on the Ursinus campus will be administered through the Self Help Bureau.

At a meeting of department heads in President Omwake's office last week a series of projects were proposed in connection with which the services of approximately thirty students will be utilized. The proposed projects include landscaping of grounds, painting of grandstand and interior of gymnasium, renovating basement of Bomberger hall, servicing of books and other necessary work in the library, and many other items.

According to the terms of the grant only those students will be selected whose financial status is such as to make attendance in college impossible without this aid; and, further, whose

WELL-PLAYED GAME WON FROM VILLANOVA FROSH

Fisk and Lauer Scored Heavily
As Cubs Show Lots of Speed

Outscoring their opponents in three of the four quarters of Saturday night's game, here, with the Villanova Frosh, Swede Paul's Cubs triumphed, 32-21.

Lauer drew first blood for the "little Grizzlies," when he dropped in a long one from the side of the court in the opening minute of play. Schappmeyer tied the score shortly after, but the Cubs then went on a spree and slid the score up to 12-4. The visiting frosh came back, however, and at the end of the half were close behind.

Villanova kept creeping up at the start of the second half and was in front at one time, 16-14. This lead until at half time Ursinus was trailing.

Balanced Curriculum, Chapel Services, Cheating, Stressed as Campus Problems

Statistics Show How Classes Differed in Opinion on Questions; Sixty Students Suggest Problem of Meals

Several days ago a questionnaire was passed out to the students in chapel to ascertain what important questions are facing them. Ursinus has been invited to cooperate with several other colleges and universities of the east in a study of campus problems. A group of seven faculty and eight students has been discussing possible fields of study.

The results of the questionnaire have now been compiled. Of the 337 students voting, 177 were men and 160 were women. They were requested to check the following questions as "Very Serious on Our Campus", "Serious on Our Campus", or "Not a Problem Here", and to add any other problems they thought were important:

1. Lack of a clear-cut objective on the part of students and faculty, and a corresponding lack of interest in college achievement and college life.
2. Need for a change in the present program of chapel services, in order to make this gathering of general interest.
3. Cheating in tests and examinations, and employing other forms of unfair help in the preparation of assignments.
4. The practice of gambling, with its waste of time and possibilities of forming habits that may prove dangerous later on.
5. Need for careful planning and balance of general and specialized courses, aiding the student to develop an active rather than a passive attitude toward all studies.

6. The lack of a program for social education: lack of opportunity for men and women students and faculty to become better acquainted with one another, to profit by the exchange of ideas on a natural, informal basis, to provide opportunities for experience in the valuable use of leisure.

Below are tabulated the results of the questionnaire in the form of percentages. "M" indicates the percentage of men who marked a question as very serious or as serious, in proportion to the number of men voting. "W" indicates the percentage of women voting who checked a particular question as very serious or as serious. "T" indicates the percentage of both men and women who checked a particular problem as very serious or as serious, in proportion to the total number voting. The questions are numbered from 1 to 6 in the order given above.

Wrestlers Lose Meets to F. & M. and Penn

Bassman Wins Stiff Contests
On Time Advantage
In Both Meets

BEARS TO WRESTLE AT G-BURG

Kuhrt Wieneke's crew of grapplers sustained a 27-3 shellacking from Penn, at the Palestra, Saturday afternoon.

Red "Killer" Bassman, ex-Philadelphia football star, provided the interest for the Ursinus matmen. Bassman settled an old score by winning over Lee, 165, with a time advantage of 3:58. The triumph was the sole score obtained by the Bear grapplers, and preserved Bassman's undefeated record.

Captain Norm Shollenberger provided the only remaining thrill in his tiff with DeProphetis in the 145 pound group. The advantage changed hands numerous times with the home wrestler holding a 3:42 time advantage at the finish.

Reynolds, Bradford, and Kravitz also dropped decisions on time, while Cubberley, Turner, and Levin were pinned. Wieneke's wrestlers showed marked improvement over previous starts, despite defeat.

The summary:

118—Levine, P., won the decision over Reynolds, U. Time, 7:47.

125—Moore, P., tossed Cubberley, U., in 5:48 with a half nelson and crotch.

135—Gordon, P., pinned Turner, U. in 8:05 with a half nelson and crotch.

145—De Prophetis, P., defeated Shollenberger, U., on time, 3:42.

155—Mazurski, P., copped the decision over Bradford, U. Time, 4:24.

165—Bassman, U., defeated Lee, P., with a time advantage of 3:58.

175—Basmajian, P., threw Levin, U., in 7:30 with a half nelson and crotch.

Unlimited class—Cross, P., defeated Kravitz, U. Time, 7:49.

Bassman Wins at F. & M.

Last Wednesday afternoon the Franklin and Marshall grapplers were hosts to the Grizzly maulers at Lancaster. Franklin and Marshall, which has one of the finest teams in the East, succeeded in outwrestling the Bears, 35-3. Charles Mayser, better known as "Uncle Charley," had his boys primed for the meet. They secured seven falls from the card of

Two More Games Lost by Cagers

Wildcats and Mules Defeat Bears
In Hard-Fought Court Battles

BREISCH HITS STRIDE

The Chase cagers suffered their eighth straight court reverse, when Doc Jacobs' Villanova Wildcats, administered the setback, 39-25, here, Saturday night.

Villanova's crack five, defeated but once this campaign, galloped off to a 6-0 lead, with Shevlin and Gergahty accounting for the scoring. Breisch put the Bears into the scoring column with a two-pointer and Grenawalt added a free toss. The visitors then took off on another scoring spree, and the count mounted to 11-3, when Johnson dropped one in from underneath the basket. Villanova again gained momentum and ran out the half with a comfortable 27-12 margin.

Faced with the prospect of another setback, the Chasemen took the court in the final canto with blood in their eyes, and rough action followed. Polly Breisch finally came through with a top-notch performance, regaining his court form of two years ago. Breisch paced the scorers of both aggregations with 14 markers, while Shevlin was right at his heels with 13.

Villanova clearly outplayed the Bear tossers, gaining an early margin and ever increasing it. At no time was the home five dangerous, as Ursinus took its second defeat of the season from the Wildcats.

Mules Eke Out Victory

The jinx still pursued Coach Chase's Ursinus basketballers, Wednesday night, as the Mules kicked back the Bears to a 32-28 defeat on the Allentown High floor. The game was nip and tuck throughout, which kept the big crowd on edge from whistle to whistle.

The Cardinal and Gray took an early five to one lead, and, although Ursinus came through with 11 more points during the remainder of the

CO-EDS RALLY TO WIN THRILLING GAME, 25-24

Francis is High Scorer for Varsity;
"Subs" Lose Following Game

After thirty-two minutes of thrilling basketball amid enthusiastic cheering, Ursinus finally won the decision from Beaver 25-24. The Ursinus girls went into the Friday fray determined to atone for two one-point defeats of previous years while the Beaver sextet was just as grimly determined to avenge a close hockey defeat of last fall. As a consequence the spectators were entertained with a fast and spirited contest. "Bups" Francis emerged from the fray as high-scorer with 14 points to her credit.

At the outset the home team seemed to have the edge and, although missing numerous possible goals because of the effective work of the 'U.' guards, they managed to gain the lead. This they gradually increased,

Editorial Comment

"VOUS CHISELEZ-VOUS?"

Are you accustomed to buy an expensive book, required for some course, and then not to open it? Do you pay thirty-five cents for a magazine, only to throw it away without turning a page?

You pay twice that much each year for debating at Ursinus—do you put yourself in a position to secure the benefits it can offer, which you don't have to try out for the teams to obtain?

"Debating" may imply a couple of hours of torture by endless formal speeches, by meaningless statistics, and by hot air, all centered on a vague metaphysical subject. If you have that impression of it, you haven't attended a new-type Oregon contest at Ursinus. Not to attend at least one is equivalent to paying money for something and condemning it without a trial to find out if it is any good.

We might write endless paragraphs about duty to the debating activities of the College, school spirit, and the informational value of hearing a snappy argumentative discussion. Omitting all that, we suggest only one reason for attending debates—because they will prove interesting, and, in a sense, amusing.

More students, both men and women, are now out for debating than in each of the two previous years, making the competition keen for places on the team. The questions for discussion this season are more vital than usual and concern subjects that should appeal to students. What sort of government shall we live under after the NIRA? How can bank savings be best protected?

In trying cases before courts, lawyers first present outlines of their position. Witnesses are called on both sides, and are cross-examined by the opposition. It is here that weaknesses in the contentions of each side can be most easily detected, and in this part of the trial the crowd is most interested. In closing, the case for each side is summed up.

For debating purposes the Oregon plan has used these features of the court-room procedure. Each side presents its case, cross-examines the other side by direct questioning, and sums up.

If you don't attend one of the Oregon-type contests, you are likely "chiseling" yourself of something interesting and valuable.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR URSINUS STUDENTS

At last the New Deal is to affect college students according to an announcement by Harry L. Hopkins, administrator of the federal relief and civil works. Between $5,000,000 and $7,000,000 is being set aside for this purpose and will be spent this semester. This is designed to help 100,000 students or one-tenth of the college students in the United States, and no institution is to receive such aid for more than one-tenth of the student body.

In another column of this issue of The Weekly announcement is made of the College's application for such assistance along with the requirements under which such aid will be granted to students. However, it must be remembered that the terms of the grant stipulate that only those students who are in dire need of financial assistance will be eligible for this aid.

The benefits to be derived from this appropriation are considerable, for besides helping needy students it also gives the College a chance to make many much-needed improvements. The College should investigate thoroughly every phase of the project. Even if only a small number are able to secure employment it will be of considerable value. However, it is imperative that immediate action be taken if Ursinus students are to be benefited, for the project will begin during the current semester.

SOPHOMORE RINGS ARRIVE

The rings for the class of 1936, made by the Baily, Banks, and Biddle Co., of Philadelphia, arrived last Saturday, and have been distributed. Previously, they had been made by another company, but due to the unsatisfactory quality of the work produced, the order was withdrawn.

In the making of the new rings, a design similar to that of the old order was used. This consists of a shank mounted with the head of a bear and a "U" top like that of the 1933 class ring.

The deans at the University of Nebraska give love, dumbness, and faulty intelligence, as the reason for flunking out of college. They omit inadequate "ponies" and laziness.

So many residents in one dormitory at the University of Michigan are named Helen that a social group known as the Helen Club has been formed. (We might suggest a Kathryn Club for Ursinus.)

Men outnumber women in the cooking classes at Michigan State. Possibly a trend toward the exchange of occupations.

From Cedar Crest we learn, "A professor is a man who learns more and more about less and less until finally he can tell you nothing about nothing."

Going for a walk in the park is considered a good date by almost any European co-ed. Students with cars are extremely rare.

GRIZZLY GLEANINGS

SOCIAL HEADLINE — Younger Social Set of Ursinus Enjoys Lorelei!

Feb. 16, 1934, (UW)—Several hundred couples of the more prominent Ursinus social hounds attended the annual Lorelei Dance with much gusto and pomp, all bedecked in their holiday rags, and enjoyed the Sirens' ball to the utmost, judging from the capers performed in and about the Thompson-Gay Dance Emporium.

Ersinus' dazzling femmes were more dazzled than ever when gentleman after gentleman accepted their wistful invitations to the gala blow-out, and by the time the affair started the ticket committee ran out of the official tags and had to substitute stubs from the Londos-Marshall wrestling bout instead. The nosing-riding from Lesh's prize bull was used to hold up attractive red and white streamers strung from the sides of the hall to the gigantic dome in the center.

Miss Fanny Bearfax, U. W.'s correspondent for all sorts of shindigs, was on deck and reported that some very charming dress ensembles were seen fitting about. Miss Lily Bonbon, of Green Fence Meadows, wore a charming frock of crepe de chine embroidered with lace, sporting a false bottom and red and lavender bars running hither and yon. Daisy Doodad of Podunk Towers had on a magnificent black satin gown featuring a painted skull and cross-bones on the back and a picture of Washington crossing the Delaware on the front. Several other gals featured their street-cleaning drapes again and Gus Johnson reports that wax, dirt, paint and all have been lifted from the gym floor.

As for the males, who incidentally, were guests for the evening, most of them wore suits of various and sundry designs. Messrs. Schiele, Carr, Henschel, Claghorn, Gabriel, Farias, and others, all members of the smart set, wore suits. However, Mr. Sommers, a member of the smarter set, wore a tux. Monsieur E. Booser Hershey, after an hour's worried wait at South's reception salon, staggered in with his celebrated Lorelei topcoat wrapped about him in a very tricky fashion.

Miss LeCron craved a dance with a Mr. Mueller, it was stated, but authorities were frustrated in their attempts to locate this individual. It was learned later, however, that he had been playing parchessi with Messrs. Straub and Shafto up in Brodbeck. The foundations of the gym were threatened somewhat when Butterball Gill insisted on bouncing, but order was quickly restored by the Greek, the official bouncer, who assured everyone that the floor was equal to the occasion.

The orchestra made a special hit with "chimes of their hands" while five girls fainted when Springer crooned. The crowning feature of the dance was the fine condition of the floor. The boards were perfect except for about two dozen glucosed spots which retarded the happy couples somewhat. Nevertheless, it is rumored that two or three Lorelei brawls a year around here would put the coffers of the Student Councils back on their feet.

This week, also, the first over-night trip will be made when the affirmative N. R. A. team will journey to F. & M., Western Maryland, and Gettysburg. Other debates on both questions will take place early in March.

The debating schedule as planned by Managers Norman Shollenberger '34, and Frederick Mueller '35, is as follows:

Women Win Opening Debate on N. R. A. From Swarthmore

An Ursinus women's team, upholding the affirmative side of the question "Resolved that the essential features of the N. R. A. should be adopted as the permanent policy of the United States Government," defeated a Swarthmore team by an unanimous decision on Thursday evening, February 15.

Ursinus was represented by Nancy Pugh '36 and Sara Brown '34. The Swarthmore debaters were Frances Cole and Virginia Sutin. The Oregon plan of debate was followed. Nancy Pugh '36 delivered a twelve-minute constructive speech which was followed by Miss Cole's opposing constructive speech.

Sara Brown '34 then cross examined Miss Cole, and Miss Sutin cross-examined Nancy Pugh. Summaries were given by Misses Brown and Sutin. The individual judges were Mrs. Mauchley and Mr. Ralph Graber. Ballots were distributed to the audience, which as the third "judge", voted 33-12 in favor of the affirmative team.

Tomorrow evening, February 20, the women's teams will engage in dual debates with the University of Western Maryland. The affirmative team, composed of Sarah Brown '34, Nancy Pugh '36, and Mildred Fox '35, will debate at Western Maryland. Dora Evans '36, Thelma Smith '36, and Maude Funk '35, as the negative team, will debate in Bomberger. The old plan of debate will be used.

CLUB DISCUSSES ENGLISH AND AMERICAN POETRY

Poetry was the center of discussion at the English Club meeting in Maples hall, last Monday night, February 12.

A short collection of the best poems of 1933, as selected by Charles Moulton, was reviewed by Marion Kern '35. Mildred Fox '35, commented upon the poems of William Butler Yeates; Joyce Strickland '34, reviewed "Talifer" by Robinson, stating that it did not equal in literary value some of his earlier works.

Dr. Smith compared the poetry of England and America. He stated that the poetry of America is inferior to that of England, lacking the deep thinking and the philosophic approach.

Brotherhood of St. Paul Sends Deputations to Two Churches

The Brotherhood of St. Paul held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening. The meeting was opened by singing several hymns. Henry Schaeffer '36, accompanied on the piano. Richard Shaffer '34, and Daniel Chestnut '37, had charge of the devotional service. The theme of the program was "Thy Will Be Done." This theme was divided into three parts: "In My Spiritual Life, In Politics, and In Business." These sub-topics were discussed by H. Allen Cooper '35, Daniel Chestnut '37, and Richard Shaffer '34.

Yesterday the deputation team of the Brotherhood presented a program in the Fourth Reformed Church, Roxborough. Next Sunday evening they will present a program in the Norristown Schwenkfelder Church, which is celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of its Sunday School. The service by the Brotherhood will be one of the special services in commemoration of this event.

The theme of the program will be "Christian Education". It will be divided into three parts: "In the Home, In the Church, and in the School." These sub-topics will be discussed by Thomas Hepner '35, Richard Shaffer '34, and Harry Fens-termacher '37. George Herbert will be chairman of the program. The Brotherhood quartet, composed of George Herbert '34, George Carvell '36, Paul Shelly '36, and Robert McLaughlin '36, will render several selections.

George Washington received the first honorary doctor of laws degree given at Harvard.

DR. C. H. RANCK DISCUSSES YOUTH'S MORAL PROBLEMS

U. of P. Counselor Stresses Efficacy of Prayer

Dr. Clayton H. Ranck, counselor for the students of the Reformed Church at the University of Pennsylvania, addressed the College Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. in a joint meeting in Bomberger hall on Wednesday evening, February 14.

Dr. Ranck, with his background of vast experience with young people, has a decided influence on the thinking of modern youth. He likened the college period of life to a period of indigestion when we think about many things but really digest a very few.

"An educated person," he said, "is one who is grown up in all departments, and this process is naturally paralleled by the usual growing pains." Students were encouraged to think things through in order that provincial ideas and conventions might be broken down.

Citing many illustrations, Dr. Ranck is firmly convinced that a failure to pray is indicative of the loss of contact with God. Although a firm advocate of the efficacy of prayer, it is by no means, he said, "a substituted for hard work." The selection of a life work, he further stated, depends on our desire to give or to get—we should prefer the former.

Devotions were conducted by Gilbert Bartholomew '35. Following the meeting in Bomberger, a short discussion was held in the West Music Studio, where several student problems were thrashed out.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED BY FOREIGN RELATIONS CLUBClub Program Centers on Japan and National Isolation

The regular meeting of the International Relations Club, held at Shreiner hall, last Tuesday evening, February 13, consisted of discussions of Japan and of national isolation. At that time it was announced that seven books had been received by the club from the Carnegie Foundation on subjects of world-wide political import.

These acquisitions, which will soon be available to all students of the College on the desk reserved for International Relations Club books, include:

"The Future Comes", by Beard and Smith.

"Europe Since 1914", by F. Lee Bennis.

"The U. S. S. R. and the World Revolution", by Michael T. Florinsky.

"Germany Enters the Third Reich", by Calvin B. Hoover.

"Caribbean Backgrounds and Prospects", by Chester Lloyd Jones.

"Government and Politics of Italy", by Henry R. Spencer.

"An Intelligent Man's Guide Through World Chaos", by G. D. H. Cole.

To open the program of the meeting, Maude Funk '35, outlined Japan's recent history, and Kathryn Prizer '34, reported on the attitudes and policies of Japan toward Russia. The

WRITE FOR "THE LANTERN"

The spring number of "The Lantern" will appear shortly before the Easter recess. It will be the second issue during this college year of the venture in a student literary publication.

All Ursinus students are invited to share in this recently initiated activity by contributing their literary and artistic talents. Original creative writing, short stories, essays, and verse, as well as critical reviews, will be considered for publication. Pen and ink sketches or designs for the linoleum cuts are desired for the decoration of the magazine.

Literary material and drawings for the March issue will be accepted up until Wednesday, February 21.

general discussion concerned itself with the relations between Japan and the United States, and the possibilities of another Russo-Japanese conflict.

The program then shifted to an informal debate on the question: "Is National Isolation Possible or Desirable?" Allan Claghorn '34, introduced the subject. John Brown '36, upheld the affirmative with a logical exposition and development of the policy of the United States. Supporting the negative side, Violet Wintersteen '34, explained the economic interdependence of nations.

LECTURE ON "ELECTROTYPES"
GIVEN BY DR. H. S. LUKENSSlides and Illustrations Are Features of Program

Dr. Hiram Stanhope Lukens of the University of Pennsylvania, an eminent chemist, gave an educational lecture on "Electrotypes" in the auditorium of the Science Building, on February 12, to members of the Hall Chemical Society and other interested persons.

Dr. Lukens began his lecture with a brief history of the development of writing and printing. He explained how the tremendous development of the printing industry in the past years has created a need for a convenient way of manufacturing light and durable type. The process of electrotyping has been developed for this reason, and today it constitutes the means by which type is made for the printing of our better class of periodicals.

A discussion of the commercial manufacture of electrotypes constituted the remainder of the lecture. The most characteristic and perhaps the most interesting process in the manufacture is the forming of the actual printing surface by the deposition of a metal upon a form by electrolysis.

Dr. Lukens exhibited, in the course of his lecture, some of the apparatus used in the process and electrotypes in various stages of completion. He also showed a series of lantern slides picturing scenes in the commercial production of electrotypes.

why Luckies taste better, smoother

In Turkey too, only the finest tobaccos are selected for Lucky Strike—the mildest leaves, the most delicate, the most aromatic. Lucky Strike is the world's largest user of fine Turkish tobaccos. Then these tender, delicate Turkish leaves are blended with choice tobaccos from our own Southland—to make your Lucky Strike a cigarette that is fully packed—so round, so firm—free from loose ends. That's why Luckies taste better, smoother. "It's toasted"—for throat protection—for finer taste.

The Tower Window

A CENSUS of Ursinus students with reference to their instruction and abilities in music was taken recently. The census revealed some interesting figures. Three hundred and fifty students made returns. Of these 239, or 69 per cent reported training to a greater or less extent in instrumental music. The instrumentalists among our students represent a wide range. Performers on the various musical instruments are as follows: piano 180, organ 13, baritone horn 4, alto horn 3, violin 53, saxophone 7, clarinet 12, xylophone 2, trumpet 11, trombone 4, viola 1, cornet 4, drums 5, banjo 2, cello 2, mandolin 2, bass viol 1, bass horn 1, French horn 1, reed instrument 1, flute 1, bass drum 2, piccolo 1.

One hundred and six out of the 350 or 30 per cent, reported no training or experience whatever, and the rest reported instruction in theoretical music and in singing. Many of those playing instruments have also had some experience in singing.

The facts brought out in this survey justify the College in maintaining a music department and such organizations as the choir, choruses, orchestra and band. The department of music presents courses in the theory and history of music, two of which courses have also a practical character—those in sight singing and ear training, and in orchestra and band. All of these courses are open to students free of charge and yield credit toward graduation the same as courses in other departments of the College. The several members of the music faculty offer private instruction at fees fixed by the College and at considerably less than studio fees by the same artists. Thus opportunities are presented for individual instruction in voice, piano, organ, violin and other orchestral instruments.

Dr. Philip H. Goepf, at one of his student recitals a few nights ago, remarked that we should not rely on hearing alone in developing an appreciation of music and appealed to his piano students to play more. I pass this advice to the small army of more or less skilled musicians in our midst. Cultivate the art by making music. Rehearsals and practices lift themselves into the value of real enjoyment when the making of music is rightly regarded. And now that we have a regular course in orchestra and band, what excellent organizations we may now have in all the different kinds of mass music.

We can not only surpass our own past, but other institutions as well, in this department of knowledge and art, if we set about earnestly to do so.

Rev. Charles P. Kehl, Class of '90, Dies After Short Illness

After an illness of less than a week, Rev. Charles P. Kehl, a graduate of Ursinus in the class of 1890, died at his late residence in Carlisle, Pa., early on Thursday morning, February 8.

Rev. Kehl was born July 21, 1868, in East Greenville, Pa. After graduating from Ursinus, he was for two years a student in the Divinity School of Yale University. He completed his studies for the ministry in the Ursinus School of Theology, from which he graduated in 1893.

On December 6, 1893, he was ordained to the ministry and installed as pastor of the Dushore charge in Sullivan County. For five years he was pastor of the Reformed Church at Red Lion, Pa. After serving as pastor of churches at Fort Loudon; Rimersburg, Pa.; Ringtown, Pa., and Keedysville, Md., he was elected pastor of the Carlisle Rural Charge of the Reformed Church.

After resigning from this pastorate, as a retired minister, he had done supply preaching for various churches. He was active in the work of religious education and civic reform, and occupied at different times important offices in organizations interested in this type of work.

PAGEANT THEMES OUTLINED; WINNERS PRIZES INCREASED

This year, because of the decision to divide the May pageant prize between Miss Anna Brooks '34, and Miss Virginia Meyer '34, the prize was increased to ten dollars each, instead of seven dollars and fifty cents, as would have been the case if the usual fifteen dollar prize had been divided between the two authors.

Continuing the series of synopses of May Day pageants, The Weekly presents a brief outline of two manuscripts submitted in the recent competition—the first by Dorothy Horne '35, and the second by Louise Gruver '34.

"Then and Now"

This pageant opens with an argument between Old Man Depression and the Spirit of '34 as to who shall be the victor in the present era. Their quarrel is hushed by Father Time who gives them a lesson from the past, the story of Jamestown.

"In autumn, the colony was faced with fear, famine, and sickness. By winter its plight was worse. Half the colony had been wiped away, but with true fighting spirit the rest stuck to their task of civilization. With spring came new hope and a turn toward better days. The people were more friendly with the Indians and sufficient food was secured. Summer came and the colony was 'on its feet.' It had won out.

Old Man Depression leaves the ground to the spirit of '34 and happiness comes into her own—as Queen."

"Mother Through The Ages"

"All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players;
They have their exits and their entrances;
And one man in his time plays many parts,
His acts being seven ages."

The above quotation from "As You Like It" was used as the basis for the pageant "Mother Through the Ages." The first six ages portraying the infant, schoolboy, lover, soldier, justice, and old age, were used in the development of the theme. The fact that May Day at Ursinus is also Mother's Day was woven into the pageant, each episode of which portrayed a mother and her child during these six ages. Historical figures such as Moses, the Gracchi, Romeo and Juliet, Bonaparte, Lincoln, and Whisler were used.

Men Open Debating Season With Lincoln University on NRA

The men's debating season got under way last Friday night when the Ursinus negative team clashed with the affirmative of Lincoln University, at that institution, on the NRA question. The Ursinus team was composed of Irving Sutin '34, and Dwight L. Gregory '34, while Gray and Marrow represented Lincoln University. The Oregon plan was followed and it was a non-decision debate.

Gray of Lincoln outlined in his constructive speech the benefits of the NRA up to the present time while Gregory in his constructive speech pointed out the weakness in the administration of the codes and showed that it has not yet proved itself beneficial enough to be made a permanent policy. Sutin then cross questioned Gray and later presented the summary while Marrow took charge of the cross examination for Lincoln and followed with the summary.

character and ability to do a high grade of work in College are unquestioned. Since the allotment to the College will be based on an average of $15 per month per student employed under the grant, it has been estimated that each student employed will be required to give approximately ten hours of service per week. The hourly rate of pay has been fixed at thirty-five cents.

Although plans are at present only tentative and must be finally approved by the State Emergency Relief Administration, it is expected that this approval will be forthcoming before March 1.

until at half time Ursinus was trailing 16-8.

Nevertheless, the second half found Ursinus with plenty of fight remaining. The centers began to click and the Ursinus forwards found their shooting eye, while the guards were holding Beaver scoreless. During the third quarter, the score was all tied up, 16-16.

However, Beaver, still in the race, scored two field goals in rapid succession and managed to keep the lead until the waning minutes of the game when, with a steady hand, "Mid" Godshall dropped three foul goals to overtake Beaver's narrow margin and win the game.

"Battler" Bassman prevented a shut-out by gaining a four-minute time advantage over Stolarz in the 165 pound class. Red picked up his opponent and slammed him to the mat in the opening minutes of the bout. He then proceeded to pin him, but the referee broke the hold. The official explained that "Red" had failed to keep one knee on the mat. After this almost disastrous experience, Stolarz wrestled more cautiously and "Red" had to be contented with a time advantage.

They Satisfy—

You know, that means something

By "balancing" 6 different types of home-grown tobaccos—

By adding just the right amount of the right kinds of Turkish—

By blending and cross-blending—
"welding" these tobaccos together—

We believe we have in Chesterfield a cigarette that's milder and tastes better.

"They Satisfy" has always seemed to us the best way of describing what we mean by this milder better taste.
